Tyson & Mendes expands complex trial team with partner promotions

Tyson & Mendes LLP, a civil defense law firm, announced March 5, the promotion of Codie Dukes, Reece Román and Morgan Van Buren to partner in San Diego.

Dukes served as senior counsel before her promotion to partner. Her practice is focused on the representation of clients, both individuals and companies, in cases regarding personal injury, fraud, property damage and complex trust disputes.

Román focuses his practice on catastrophic personal injury cases, with a specialization in cases involving traumatic brain injuries, spinal cords injuries and major orthopedic injuries. He also served as senior counsel prior to his promotion to partner.

Van Buren, prior to his promotion, was an associate. His focus is on general liability and high exposure litigation. He has experience regarding diverse damages claims, and potential excess exposure. In the past, he negotiated several favorable settlements in multi-party litigation and nuisance value settlements in premises liability actions.
